RS Browser Forensics Screenshots: Creating a Bookmark for the Site is a touchy subject when it comes to web browsers, since they often obstruct the process by blocking access to a specific URL. And creating a bookmark is often one of the first (and most personal) steps you take when looking for a site that you want to bookmark. So let us walk you through the process of finding a site, creating a bookmark and then how to delete it. Step 1: Opening the Site Step 2: Using CTRL+D Step 3: Adding Bookmark Step 4: Deleting a Bookmark You will find that most browsers actually send a request to your web host (your server) so that you can recognize if you are browsing the site or a web page on it. This happens with the most popular browsers, including Google Chrome, Firefox, Opera, and Safari. Step 5: Creating a Bookmark After you have opened a site, you can now create a bookmark. Please keep in mind the following pointers. – In Firefox go to Bookmarks menu>Add Bookmark... – In Internet Explorer go to Bookmarks menu>Manage Bookmarks... – In Opera go to Bookmarks menu>Edit Bookmark... – In Chrome go to bookmarks menu and click on the + Add Bookmark... button – In Safari go to bookmark menu>Add Bookmark... Step 6: Deleting a Bookmark Once you have created a bookmark, you should now be able to find it and delete it.
