Archvision RPC Plugins 3.17.0.0 for 3dsmax 2010 x64.rarQ: How to correct so that code highlighted in VS2012 is not highlighted as syntax error in Eclipse when using PyDev? I am using PyDev in Eclipse with a PyCharm background. When I use it to debug my python script, I have the problems below: Highlighted lines are highlighted as syntax error (e.g. below line), which will be confusing. When I press Ctrl-M it does not work, this is a problem when I want to make a local variable, because I have to keep pressing it. Screenshot of problem A: I have the same problem with PyDev's debugger using Eclipse (PyDev Plugin): It works fine with PyDev's interpreter which ignores the colors assigned to the lines by the PyDev source code parser, but it doesn't work with PyCharm's interpreter (from scratch or built-in). I know PyCharm's debugger doesn't support exceptions by default (as well as its error-handler), but you can use PyDev's "pdb" (Python interactive debugger) to do it. By Brandon Jourdan With the
